

The following format is for your guidance in the preparation of this nomination form for the “IEEE Corporate Innovation Recognition.” Your nominee may qualify under one or more, or all, of items (5), (6), (7), (8) and (9) described below. Please use Pages 6 and 7, if required, to describe your organization’s qualifications.

The nomination will be judged on the information you provide along with the supporting statements by the references.

5. Describe the new concept resulting in the development of a new product, system or service, its innovative aspects, and how it has advanced the theory and practice of electrotechnology within its field.

6. Describe how this innovative concept and new product(s) have created a new industry, how they have revolutionized the character of an existing industry, or served to exert fundamental changes in the mode of living.

7. Describe how the development has served or is serving to precipitate changes in the industry, and the significance of these changes.

8. Describe how the development has been or will be applied to counteract obsolescence and be adopted as a next step for the future.

9. Please provide any additional information that may not have been covered in the above points, but that you feel will reinforce this nomination relative to the contribution to the advancement of the theory and practice of electrotechnology.

10. Endorsers, Names, Addresses, and Email. Endorsers shall be advised to include statements in their support letters regarding their familiarity with the innovative qualifications of this organization. (Minimum of three supporting letters required; maximum of five permitted. No more than five letters will be reviewed by the Committee. Letters may accompany nomination or be submitted directly to IEEE.)

11. Nominator: Name, Business Affiliation and Address (or home address, if preferred); Telephone; Fax; Email.

NOTE: The IEEE Awards Board reserves the right to consider any nomination for Institute Awards other than the award suggested when, in its judgment, the support and justification may more appropriately apply to other Institute Awards.
