

IEEE's Commitment to Africa

Karen Bartleson speaks at Transform Africa Summit in Rwanda, Africa Members

In support of that commitment, 2017 IEEE President & CEO Karen Bartleson will speak at the Transform Africa Summit, an event where leaders gather to discuss digital transformation within Africa. Karen will be a plenary speaker at the Smart Africa Women's Summit, where she will speak about the need to engage young women in STEM, and she will discuss IEEE's efforts to build engineering capacity within Africa, and the importance of empowering the next generation of female technologist and engineers. In addition, she will be a panelist on a Big Data & IoT session.