

How do I access online help in the IEEE Learning Network (ILN)?

Overview

The IEEE Learning Network (ILN) has a robust context-based help system. Help topics will be relevant to the page you are on in ILN, however you can still search for other topics within the help system regardless of where you open the help site. The steps below are available after you are logged into ILN.

Access Help

The Help icon is located on the ILN Menu Bar at the top of each page in ILN.

Help icon on the ILN Menu bar

To open the ILN Help site:

1. Click the Help (question mark) icon. The help site opens in a new browser tab.

ILN help site

2. Scroll the page to review all of the information.

3. Click the hyperlinks within the article for additional information.
AND/OR

Click the links in the Table of Contents pane to navigate to other article topics.

AND/OR

Enter key words in the Search field and click the Search (magnifying glass) icon to locate additional information.

Search box on Help system

4. Click the Close (X) icon on the browser tab to close the Help tab. ILN will be available on an open tab in the browser.

Close tab icon (Google Chrome)