Effectively leveraging your discount

Today's hottest technical innovations cross multiple IEEE Societies. In choosing your IEEE Society memberships, consider selecting IEEE Societies with overlapping or complementary fields of interest. Relevant Councils and Technical Communities are also included in the appropriate clusters. Examples of common interests include:

- 1. Infrastructure and Integrated Environments: From autonomous driving systems to smart roads promising a revolution in land transportation and city environments, technology advancements are converging to transform everyday environments. Many IEEE Societies and Councils are focusing on infrastructure and integrated environments, including:
