Aims and Scope of the Series
The IEEE Press Series would complement the IEEE Vehicular Technology Society’s current publications by focusing on the production of 300-500 page books that would provide a more comprehensive and in depth treatment of specific topics. Such books would play an essential role in helping newcomers to the field become rapidly acquainted with key topics and issues, while helping more experienced workers advance their skills. Some may find important roles in graduate courses or continuing education.
